Give the feedback in own words on "How you wish to be an effective leader?"

To be an effective leader, the first thing that we should not demand for our work. There must be a trust and cooperation. There are two things that a great leader that is empathy and perspective. The effective leader should will be so often and concerned about their status of their position in the organization. Also they forget their job. Leader is all about taking care of those in our charge and they don't realize this. Only one responsibility of a leader should be good at their jobs. Also some people actually get the advance education's

An leadership skill is a skill which is like a practicable learnable skill, and it is something we should work for it

All the ^{people} ~~leaders~~ will have the capacity to be leader. At the end of the day, great leaders are not responsible for job.

They're responsible for the people who are responsible for the job. If we create the right environment, we will get people who cares us. In a business life there is a lack of empathy.

The performance at work empathy is being concerned about the human being, not just the output. Apparently, this young generation is unleaded. We have to understand about the empathy which we are struggling with that is parenting, technology, impatience and environment. There are lot of kids who get into honours classes but their parents complain it. To be a great leader, start with empathy, change the perspective and play the game wisely, ~~as~~ - Simon Sinek.

In my point of my view, the effective leader should ~~have~~ maintain an appropriate professionalism. This shouldn't be confused with being snooty or condescending. Do our work seriously, hitting deadlines, respecting others. It's primarily a way of being as opposed to way of dressing. Determine if there are any ways in which we are unprofessional. Learn the art of delegation. They also are keenly aware that scaling a business requires a team, not a solopreneur. Effective leaders map out the steps which is needed to hit the goal. These benchmarks provide milestone for the team to measure progress. The ability to communicate clearly is absolutely essential for every leader. A leader should be able to communicate clearly in every medium from speech to writing even text messages. Also start with empathy, change the perspective and achieve the goal. The best leaders also maintain a sense of joy they go about their work and lead others. To conclude with, the effective leadership skills must be built. The good news is that if we take a specific, small, concrete actions, we can begin developing these leadership skills immediately. We don't ~~we~~ even need to be in a position of leadership to develop work on honing those attributes. Leadership should be earned but the skills learned make it worth the effort.
